

Call for Volcano Art Prize 2020 Entries

It's a fun way to contribute to lead poisoning prevention, and you could win an award, a cash prize, or your entry printed on one of 30 mugs!

The deadline is midnight at the end of the day on Monday 27th July 2020, so there is still time to get creative....

You could just go through your photos and choose a landscape-orientation A4 (rectangular) photo that's 1-3MB in size and for which you can create a Lead-Safety Message (words to inspire others to stay or become lead-safe or protect the environment from lead), then head to www.volcanoartprize.com/submitentry/ to upload it! Photos of artworks (as below) and short films (after you've web-published it) can also be entered.

If you're an adult in an OECD country, entry only costs AU$10 but for every child and all other adults, entry is free! Winners are announced during International Lead Poisoning Prevention Week of Action (ILPPWA) 2020* in LEAD Action News.

2019 Volcano Art Prize (VAP) Entry.

Title of Image: A BEAUTIFUL NATURE

Safety Message: Recycle, reuse

Artist: Gianna Marie Nobin aged 5!

<https://volcanoartprize.com/portfolio-item/a-beautiful-nature/>

*Dates for your diary: International Lead Poisoning Prevention Week of Action (ILPPWA) 2020 is Sunday 25th October to Saturday 31st October. Please send in your ideas for how else we should mark this important week globally.